MYSTERIES UNKNOWN”

Noes, why is this chapter called,
“Mysteries
Unknown?”

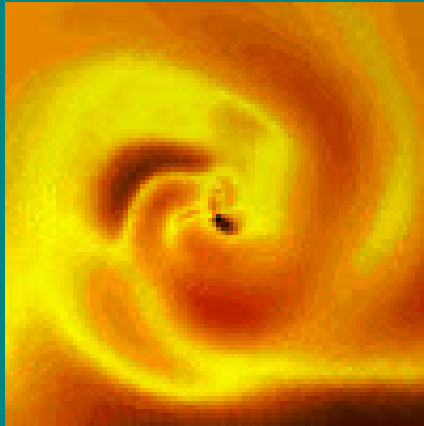

Earthling Humans
don't understand
the workings of their own Worlde.

Or their own
Universe,
Earthling
Humans forget
they are part of nature.

Guess you would call them “Younglings !”

...or “Youngeons !”

Every living entity is governed by “The Balance.”

Emmy, Nuff, and Henry the dinosaur

Emmy, I will scare off Henry
the dinosaur and
you take care of
the bear in the cave.

Some things
never change !

Yikes ! This
is harder
than I realized.

You'll be sorry !

Why? What?
Explain yourself
Woman! Make it
snappy!

Think about what you are doing!

Emmy, you have
a mouth use it,
and quickly, you
might not have a husand at the end of this cartoon !

We'll this is my thought. If we allow Henry to stay
around, we wouldn't have bears in our
cave ! But it is your choice.

Actually, Henry
is quite nice
once you get to know the darling thing !

Jeezzz..... I guess
there is more than one answer to
problems in our lives....Huh ?

Nuff, the answer is
the balance in life.
Also, how we handle
our lessons.

You are right, it
was my choice to figure out my free
will and let Henry
stay . My lesson.

MORE OF THE STORY.....

Earthling Humans really have forgot, why we are here on Earth. Learning life lessons, and how to handle those lessons and to bring balance into our lives is what we have in common. When life lessons are not learned, those lessons must be repeated, until we learn them and understand them. Emmy and Nuff live in the dinosaur age, young couple trying to cope with extreme living conditions. Emmy remembers her father teaching her about the way life was set up here on Earth eons ago. So, in her own way tries to remind hard headed Nuff, the way of One and The Balance. Nuff, in the end made the decision that was right for him, and maybe this lesson will not have to be repeated again.
