More Of The Story.....

In this chapter, One, and The Balance is introduced, explaining some of their background. Explanations are given about balancing the Earthling Human lives. The Asian Dragon is given as a reminder, and has been around for many eons. Explanations are given that we are here on the Earth to learn life lessons, and balance our lives with the different situations we put ourselves into daily. Many of us are caught up in the mundane part of life that we have forgotten those who are there, but we take for granted, because of not seeing them face to face. Just like the wind.
